

About Sherry

Sherry is proof that God meets us where we are and she will never cease to be amazed at the grace that accepts her as flawed and presents her as holy. In her pursuit to live fearless for the things of God, she started her blog The Messy Christian because she wants others to know that we can be honest about our mess as we strive to live for Jesus. Her stories are insightful, humorous, and full of truth. Sherry is a wife, mother of two, and third grade teacher.

Sherry is a contributing writer for Her View From Home, an online lifestyle magazine for women. Her writing has also been published on TODAY Parents, Love What Matters, and Little Things Sherry is the director of O.N.E for Women, bi-yearly events that minister to women, at her church and has enjoyed sharing her heart and God's Word at many other speaking engagements.
